Whether the Mississippi is to be opened to the trade of the loyal West this cesson, is a question to be determined very shortly, per-saps within a few days. The army, officer-and men, have long been axtions for a for-rard movement. We have seen a large force-sere for some time, lying apparently inactive, and smoosashi fighting will not occur before it has been carneally wished for by the friends of the Union in military circles and obse-parent in the loyal North and is Louisians. We look now for some solid advantages in re-man for the great expenditure insurred in litting out the last expedition to the Guit; all the control of the control of the con-trol of the control of the control of the con-portunity for real service here, in bolaif of the control of the control of the con-trol of the con-

The Senate also concurred in the Assembly resolution ordering 4,000 copies of the Governor's extra message in relation to the draft in this State.

ernor's extra message in relation to the draft in this State.

Senator Lawrence introduced a bill providing for the enrollment of persons liable to perform military duty, and for the organization of the Siste militia.

Mr. Chandler offered a substitute for a bill smending the laws for the sale of lands for unpaid taxes, which was passed. The substitute repeals the provision of the statutes requiring the payment of certain sums of money before the party seeking to redeem such lands can take action for redemption, and also provides for a greater length of time in which such lands may be redeemed.

The Governor sent in a message vetoing Senator Clark's bill intended to benefit the farm mortgagers, and entitled "For the latisfaction of mortgages in certain cases."

In the Assembly, this morning, Mr. Sandborn introduced resolutions against the Fresident's Proclamation. These were indefinitely postponed.

Bills were introduced to reduce the fees of Town Treasurers; to appropriate $3,000 to St. Mary's hospital, at Milwankee; to tax rail and plank roads, besides several local bills.

port can be estimated from the fact that Isaac N. Cook, the gambler and defaulter, was reported as efficient and of excellent character. The course pursued by Learned has been the rubject of much critician, and he has been removed for irregularity and insubordination. Streamous efforts are making to procure the reversal of ex-Commissioner Boutwell's derersal of ex-Commissioner Boutwell's de-done that burial cases are not to be understood as coming within the meaning of hollow ware in the tax law, and are therefore subject to three per cent, duty, like other manufactu-rers, instead of $1.50 per ton. Cincinnati has sent messengers here to induce Commissioner Lewis to overrule the decision of Mr. Bout-well.

Levis to overrule the decision of Mr. Boul-well.

The Government is hard at work selecting officers under the Conscription law. Probably all will be appointed at once, the list being kept open till completed.

Representative Hooper, of Boston, has bought thehouse formerly occupied by M'Clailan, on H street, for $25,000. Senator Morgan is negotiating for ex-Mayor Jewett's house, for which $30,000 is asked. The price is much beyond the original cost.

WARMINGTON, March 17, 1888.

CONFIRMATION OF GEN. STRYMNON—MAGNIXDATE OF MR. SOWNER.

Brig. Gen. Sievenson, the officer who was arressted by Gen. Hunter for having uttered disloyal sentiments in the course of a personal difficulty, into which he was dragged by his quarrelsome companions, has been finally confirmed by the Senste. Senstor Simmer, who at first opposed the confirmation, yieldad his objections upon the personal appeal of Gen. Burnside, who asserted his confidence in the bravety, skill and loyalty of Gen. Stevenson. The withdrawal of his opposition by Mr. Sunner is all the more creditable, from the fact that Stevenson was one of the set in Massachusetts, who have so bitterly assailed the Senator and endeavored to destroy his political linkusce.

the schowledged sum of their losses show that he did.

I have no quiestion but that almost every reader will wonder at the apparent inaction of Col. Coburn's cavairy and artillery support. I can make no explanation of it. I have been no hunried since arriving out the ground that I have had no time for careful chquiries, and I do not choose to make strictures that may prove terribly unjust. Artillery men claim that their ammunition was exhausted, and cavalry men say that they held their ground till forced back by overwhelming numbers, but there is this peculiar fleature in the history of their operations: they escaped from a battle in which over a thousand of their infinitry comrades were killed and easytured, without the loss of a man. Thus, I am well informed, that neither the artillery nor cavalry had every from Col. Coburn to make their retrografing more.

I have this to say, however, for the cavalry; falling back to the town they saved the baggagatrain from capture. Col. Jordon, commonling the 6th Fennylvania, is an efficient officer and a brave man, only circunstances were wickedly against him in the Thompson Station diseaster. —one musket ball had already passed through the top.

The last view I had of the ground the four regiments occupied the top of the hill on the right of the road, and, so far as I could dis-cover, were surrounded by the enemy, and all fighting to their utmost. The hatteries were directing a heavy fire upon them. They had no summention, besides what they had in their catristige boxes, and, doubtiese, Colonel Coburn did not surrender until all the amma-nition was consumed, and found it mesless.

SARNI JOHENI'S DAY.—Testerday was Saint Joseph's day, and was calebrated by several German Catholic Associations, who paradied the streets headed by a band of music. Joseph was the spouse of Mary of the tribe of Judah, and a descendant of David. He lived at Manneth andwars ship carpenter by occupation, when he was betrothed to Mary, the mother of Jesus Christ. He is held in high blone in the Catholic Church, and March 19th is assigned as his festival. In pointing, he is represented with a lify or Sowering branch.

BOWN WITH THEM.

The conspiracy by which the Public Schools of this city were turned over, by the last Legislature, to the tender magnin of politicians of the Copperhead species, by them to be used for the promotion of personal and partisan schemes, rather than further clucation of the children of the rich and poor, is to be passed upon by the people as the approaching municipal electics, and the conspirators themselves are to be judged and we hope punished. On this school question, which, like the war question, is superior to all partisanship, them should be a vigorous fight. We notice the some of the men who were most officious in what was done, are eagerly claiming their reward at the hands of the party to which they belong; and we have only be hope that their claims will be allowed. They will be taught that the cause of public education in Chicago is too sacred a thing for them to handle. Down with them I should be the uncoasing cry.

Revenue law, coniesses in a note to the Chicago organ of Jeff Davis, that he was cognizant of the forgery of the name of Mr. Boutwell, the Revenue Commissioner, to a letter, relative to the tax on highwins, which was printed by the Transma among other papers,—the letter, the lorgery, and the publication being awowedly for apeculative purposes—and that, having cognizance of the crime, he concealed it so as not to expose his friends, five in number, to whom his "honor" was pledged not to betray them. And he still withholds their names, being determined to be guilty of no "tranchery" to them. If the story is a true one, which we very much doubt, we are glad to know that Mr. H. H.
